

How to use data source from image folder?

Posted by farisnasir - 12 Jul 2011 03:21

I can't figure out what path should i put for the image folder path if i'm to use data source from image folder.

if i create the image folder in /images/img2 , what's the path? I tried several absolute paths but it shows nothing at the front end. i'm confused.

don't you have any documentation about this?

=====

Re: How to use data source from image folder?

Posted by Joshua M. O'Mary, Sr. - 12 Feb 2012 17:27

Did you ever solve this issue??? I bought this extension today because I thought I could use images outside of the article via the path. I have been unsuccessful so far. Will somebody help?

=====

Re: How to use data source from image folder?

Posted by Joshua M. O'Mary, Sr. - 12 Feb 2012 18:40

Problem Solved!!! A little documentation would be nice, though. Would have saved me a couple hours time trying to figure this out. N E Ways, here is what you do.

General Settings of the module:

Data Source: From Image Folder (It's a drop down)

Image Folder Path: images/what/ever/your/path/may/be (Not absolute)

Description for each image: 'Imagename=>title|description|link'(No ")

The "Description for each image" has a tool tip if you mouse over the text in your cPanel. Instead if "Imagename" it should say "Filename" because this is what it requires. The filename is completing the path directly to each image. The title is displayed in the navigation and on mouseovers. I have not seen where the description is displayed. The link is what it is. It's the link where you want to have your visitors directed.

Hope I could help.

=====